

B.B.A. ACCOUNTING

Multinational conglomerates, government agencies, charitable organizations, downtown retailers, entrepreneurs...they all have accounting needs specific to their organization that require highly skilled individuals who understand the external rules and regulations and internal policies which are crucial for success. With a Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting, you could choose to work in an accounting firm, corporation or business in almost any industry, or you could work for non-profit, in education, or in local, state or federal government.

The mission of the Accounting Program at The University of South Dakota Beacom School of Business is to provide quality professional education in an environment that promotes critical thinking, fosters the exchange of ideas among scholars, and contributes value to the practice of accounting.

Accounting graduates provide general accounting, audit, tax, financial planning, and estate and management consulting services. You'll also find them teaching, creating legislation and leading companies as members of management teams.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS & GRADUATES SAY

"A BBA in Accounting from The U offers career and personal growth opportunities unlike any other program available in the region. I was able to complete an internship at an accounting firm and apply the technical skills I had been learning in my classes while gaining invaluable lessons about the business world and life after college."

Deidre Budahl, CPA, Senior Auditor
Casey Peterson & Associates

"One of the biggest advantages to studying accounting at The U was the job opportunities upon graduation. I had the choice to join a Big Four accounting firm and live in a city such Omaha, Minneapolis, or Chicago or to go to smaller, more regional firm and stay in South Dakota."

Ashley K. Foss, Audit Associate
Deloitte & Touche, LLP
