

B.B.A. MANAGEMENT

The Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Management through The University of South Dakota enables students to become capable business managers that can detect and even anticipate changes in the business environment, understand the changes they see, and develop effective strategies to cope with these changes.

As managers face new challenges and more complex decisions, they must be able to solve them with new tools and techniques. The B.B.A. in Management through The University of South Dakota provides students with the skills they need in the fundamental areas of business while helping to develop the ability to deal effectively with people, make complex decisions, and willingly accept change.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS & GRADUATES SAY

"As a twenty-year serving member of the armed forces, I am fast approaching retirement. After my service is finished I would like to take a "step up" financially. Completing my Bachelor of Business Administration in Management from The University of South Dakota will enable me to do this, especially because I'm getting a business degree from a nationally recognized and accredited program."
