

THE 8TH ANNUAL
JOSEPH HARPER CASH
MEMORIAL LECTURE

GUEST SPEAKER
DR. WEBSTER TWO HAWK

History from Small Places
"Sicangu Lakotas in Transition—
The Last 100 Years"

Thursday, October 24, 2002, 8:00 p.m.
Farber Hall, Historic Old Main
The University of South Dakota

2002 JOSEPH HARPER CASH
MEMORIAL LECTURER

DR. WEBSTER TWO HAWK

Dr. Webster Two Hawk, Sr., was born in rural White River, South Dakota, and is a member of the Rosebud Sioux Tribe. He attended the Rosebud Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) Boarding School at Rosebud, South Dakota, and is a graduate of Todd County High School at Mission, South Dakota. He was graduated from The University of South Dakota in 1952 with a B.S. degree in Business Administration and received his Master of Divinity degree from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio.

His military experiences include service in the U.S. Army during the Korean War and as a Chaplain Major (Retired) with the South Dakota National Guard. Dr. Two Hawk served as an Episcopal Priest on the Yankton Reservation during 1957-62 and on the Standing Rock Reservation from 1962-68. From 1968 to the present, he continues to serve as a volunteer priest.

A political activist, his experiences include development of the State Indian Task Force, appearances before the U.S. Congress on Indian issues, and creation of the National Tribal Chairman's Association and the United Sioux Tribes Development Corporation.

Dr. Two Hawk is the recipient of numerous honors and awards including Honorary Chief of the Rosebud Sioux Tribe, 1973 Alumnus of the Year awarded by the USD School of Business, President of the United Sioux Tribes Development Corporation and the National Tribal Chairman's Association. He holds honorary doctorate degrees in Humane Letters from Kenyon College and in Divinity from Huron College. He was accorded an Honorary Doctor of Law degree in 1998 from The University of South Dakota.

During 1969-73 and again from 1983-85, Dr. Two Hawk was elected for three terms as Chairman of the Rosebud Sioux Tribe. In the interim, he served as Director of the Institute of Indian Studies at USD from 1974-76. After leaving USD, he took a position with the Indian Health Service during 1976-83 and again from 1986 to 1994. He also has served as Director of St. Elizabeth's Mission Home, Wakpala, South Dakota, and as Associate Director of the Rosebud Sioux Tribe Community Action Program. Since 1996, he has served as Commissioner of the South Dakota Tribal Government Relations Office in Pierre.

His presentation, "Sicangu Lakotas in Transition—The Last 100 Years," will address land issues and tensions among federal, state, and tribal governments.