

Missouri River Institute Research Symposium

Thursday, April 21, 2011
Neuharth Media Center, University of South Dakota

Click on speaker name to view presentation

Time	Speaker	Title
9:00	Matt Ley (University of South Dakota)	The Effect of Climatic Variation on Rates of Channel Migration, Lower Big Sioux River (1936 - 2009)
9:20	Aaron Gregor (University of South Dakota)	Reproductive Ecology of Smooth Softshell and False Map Turtles within the 59-mile Segment of the Missouri National Recreational River
9:40	Lisa Yager &amp; Brian Korman (National Park Service)	Water Quality Monitoring and Weed Management on the MNRR
10:00	BREAK
10:30	Gene Bormann (U.S. Army Corps of Engineers)	Corps of Engineers Outreach and Education Programs
11:00	Dan Catlin (Virginia Tech)	Great Plains Piping Plover Population Dynamics: From the Prairies to the Gulf
11:30	Linda Filo (U.S. Army Corps of Engineers)	North Alabama Bend &amp; Audubon Bend: Current Management Activities
12:00	LUNCH BREAK
1:30	Kirsten Wert (University of South Dakota)	Wildlife surveys on the Niobrara Delta
1:50	Tyler Janke (The Nature Conservancy)	Opportunities for Cottonwood Forest Restoration Along an Aggrading Reach of the Missouri River
2:10	Steve Mietz (National Park Service)	MNRR Programs and Activities
2:30	BREAK
3:00	Theresa Smydra (Missouri River Futures)	Documenting and Communicating Oral Histories of Long-Time Residents Along the 59-mile Segment of the Missouri National Recreational River
3:20	Malia Volke (South Dakota State University)	The Ecological Significance of Cottonwood Regeneration on the White River Delta along the Missouri River
3:40	Jennifer Brown (University of South Dakota)	Impacts of Chytrid and Pesticides on Amphibians Along the 59-Mile Reach of the Missouri River

Posters from various individuals and organizations will also be on display

For more information visit: www.usd.edu/mri

