- 7. Explanation of the Change: The psychology core requirements have changed due, in part, to a change in the American Psychological Association Standards of Accreditation for Clinical Psychology. In addition, we wish to align the requirements of the Clinical Psychology and Human Factor's master's programs to include a core of psychology courses that will be expected of all of those who earn a master's degree in psychology.

Changes in the Clinical Psychology PhD Core reflect the following (in order of their appearance):

- moving PSYC 705 to the Psychology MA core
- PSYC 765 and 768 and have appeared incorrectly in the catalog -- this is a correction
- PSYC 782 has been replaced by PSYC 773: Research Methods in Clinical Psychology
- PSYC 709 has been added as a requirement
- Doctoral level electives have been increased from 6 credit hours to 9 credit hours
- The number of hours for the specialization have gone from 44 to 41 -- but the total number of hours required for the PhD degree remains the same (71)
