Subject: Math Discipline Council: MATH 102, 103, 104 change in prerequisites
Importance: High

Good morning Provosts,

The Math Discipline Council has been working together to revise the pre-requisites of the common courses: Math 102, MATH 103, and MATH 104. (Please see attached forms.) Dr. Van Peurseem, the chair of the Math Discipline Council, agreed to take the lead to coordinate these curriculum revisions through USD. These will be vetted in our curriculum committee next week.

Do you support these revisions to align the pre-requisites?

Thank you,

I like the uniformity that is proposed. I think the first option is preferable as we will be going back to math 021/101 as the primary delivery model for remedial math. I know it should be clear with the (math 095 or math 101), but I like the bluntness of "Math 095; or Math 101..." instead of "one math course" especially in regards to offering math 021 in the fall.

Best wishes over the Thanksgiving holiday,

Rich

Subject: Pre-req consideration

Hi Folks,

Since 102, 103 and 104 are lumped together with our placement for the math index, it seems we may want to have the same pre-req's on those courses as well. I'm happy to initiate the paperwork on our campus but wanted to see if you all concur or would support it. This was brought to the forefront as we are seeing more students go from 095 to 104 and having problems registering. Let me know what you think of the following change. I am providing 2 options on the proposed change as I reworded the current 102 and 103 language slightly as 095 is RS/RU grading and not letter graded. We could even just use that language as is since it apparently doesn't cause any issues. Let me know what you think. Thanks.

Dan

Current Pre-Req's

104: "One math course (at the 100/200 level) or appropriate placement based on standardized testing."
102 and 103: "One math course (MATH 095 or 101) with a grade of C or better or appropriate placement based on standardized testing."

Consider changed Pre-Req's

102, 103, 104: "MATH 095; or MATH 101 with a grade of C or better; or appropriate placement based on standardized testing."

Or

102, 103, and 104: "One math course (MATH 095 or 101) with a grade of C or better or appropriate placement based on standardized testing."
