

Project ECHO: University of South Dakota - Maximizing Rural Telehealth in South Dakota ECHO

| Session | Date                       | Topic  | Presenter(s)                             |
|----------------|-----------------------------------|---|---|
| 1       | ThursdayJune 1812-1pm CT  | Overview of basic telehealth 101, technologies in telehealth, and professional televisits.  | Ranelle NissenChantel OstremKaylee Koob |
| 2       | ThursdayJune 2512-1pm CT  | Fundamental knowledge of the helping skills process when working with clients via technology, professional relationship, therapeutic risk, and risk management. | Denise Bush                                     |
| 3       | ThursdayJuly 212-1pm CT   | Benefits of e-therapy, group e-therapy, and cultural and linguistic competence.   | Abbey Hunhoff                                   |
| 4       | ThursdayJuly 912-1pm CT   | Regulations, licensing issues, and securing risks.  | Amy Hartman                                     |
| 5       | ThursdayJuly 1612-1pm CT  | Considerations for training, and starting a virtual clinic.   | Amy Hartman                                     |
| 6       | ThursdayJuly 2312-1pm CT  | Administration in South Dakota Telehealth services.   | Stacy Krall                                     |
| 7       | ThursdayJuly 3012-1pm CT  | Standards and ethical practice.   | Dana LarsonAlexa Gauer                      |
| 8       | ThursdayAugust 612-1pm CT | Basic elements of the helping process through different forms of technology, ethical issues, informed consent, duty to warn, and initial assessment.            | MelissaDittberner                           |