Learning and Leading through Reflective Practice is the shared vision of the USD School of Education for all of its programs. The underlying intent of the vision requires that learners be exposed to experiences that enhance their ability to engage in life-long learning and leadership roles anchored in reflective practice. Formal and informal learning spans each individual's lifetime. This course provides students who are operating within a technical, diverse and complex global world with the opportunity, as educated and responsible persons, to learn how to effectively use the knowledge being acquired. The purpose of this course is to challenge complacency and influence change in each student's habits of mind, attitudes and perceptions. Students are helped to acquire, integrate, extend, refine and use knowledge in a useful and meaningful manner as a base from which informed reflective decisions can be made. Through thought processes based on theoretical, ethical and professional knowledge, student competencies and behavior are positively enhanced to enable students to cognitively function at a higher level.

USD Upper Division Globalization Institutional Requirement
This course satisfies the goal that students will understand how global issues, developments, and ideas affect their lives and those of others. This is accomplished through writing assignments and other projects determined by instructor.

Online Technical Standards
For information about USD's technical, academic and student support services, as well as how to take advantages of these services, please refer to the CE Online Student Orientation at http://www.usd.edu/~media/files/usd-online/online-orientation-guide.ashx  This document also contains important information pertaining to minimum technology requirements, registration information, as well as other university services and policies. If you require technical assistance with Desire2Learn, please submit a request online to the ITS Help Desk, or contact them at 605-658-6000 or 877-225-0027. helpdesk@usd.edu.

This course is offered online using the program D2L provided through the University of South Dakota. While there is no class meeting, students are still required to participate in discussion boards and complete assignments on time.

Any communication sent to the professor via D2L email will have an approximate response time of 48 hours. Emails sent directly to the instructor’s email account (noted above) will have quicker response times as that email account is accessed more frequently by the instructor. Assignments submitted in the “dropbox” or grading of discussion postings will occur approximately 48-72 hours upon completion.

II. Textbooks

Required Texts

 Additional readings for this class with be provided through D2L

III. Expectations

Students

- First and foremost, students are expected to read, understand and abide by all policies and procedures outlined in this syllabus as well as those in the CDE Online Orientation, which can be accessed from the “Getting Started” section on the course homepage. The latter contains important information about the various academic, student and technical resources and services available at USD.

The South Dakota Board of Regents defines a credit hour as one hour of in-class activity, and two hours of out-of-class work. To that end, you should expect to invest around nine hours per week into this course.

As this is an online course, we will not be meeting face-to-face, so this engagement requirement will be reproduced by the following activities: posting in the weekly discussions; reading additional weekly material posted on D2L, watching required video posts, writing assignments, etc.

One important thing to remember: when all is said and done, this is your class; it is what you make of it. Your level of participation will be directly proportional to your class experience. In other words, you will get out of it what you put into it.
Instructor

The instructor will strive to provide every possible opportunity for feedback and, unless otherwise stated, will respond to all email communications within forty eight (48) hours during the weekdays and within seventy two (72) hours on the weekends. The instructor will also endeavor to return with feedback and suggestions in a reasonable amount of time. All written assessments will be graded using a standard rubric, which can be found within the course.

Finally, the instructor will also abide by all policies set forth in this syllabus and those by the CDE Online Orientation, The University of South Dakota, and the South Dakota Board of Regents.

This course is designed:

- To help each student look at their own bias and prejudice as it pertains to racism and sexism in a pluralistic society.
- To help students realize their own bias and prejudice can interfere with their chosen profession.
- To help students realize that communication style makes a difference in working with other individuals or groups in a pluralistic society.
- To help students gain a positive attitude toward all members of a pluralistic society and to help them with human relations skills and techniques which will provide favorable experiences for their students/clients/coworkers.
- To help students gain an appreciation for the values, lifestyles, contributions, and history of a pluralistic society so that it can be translated into a respect for human dignity and individual rights.

V. Evaluation and Grade Assignment:

All writing assignments are to be posted/submitted through D2L on specified times. Late work will not be accepted. Make-up work is not available. Writing assignments should comply with APA style when written in Microsoft Word 2010 or later. Papers MUST be submitted in a format compatible with Turnitin via the course Dropbox—not through course mail. Feedback and grades will be available in the GradeMark feature of the Dropbox within seven days after the due date, unless otherwise stated.

1. Quizzes (8 quizzes; 10 points each for 80 total points): Quizzes will reflect chapters from the text and supplemental information provided by the instructor. They will be multiple choice, true/false, or combinations of both. Quizzes will be available through D2L. The student will have 30 minutes to complete a quiz and will only be able to take the quiz once. Students are allowed to utilize the text and outlines to help in completing the quizzes. However, students are NOT allowed to work with others to complete the quizzes or share any quiz information with other students. By submitting a quiz, the student is verifying that they have upheld the academic integrity of this course. See course calendar for due dates.

   For the most part quizzes are self-paced. Quiz scoring will be released immediately, but review of quiz items will not occur until a particular quiz has been completed by all students in order to ensure the integrity of the quizzes. Students should note that the instructor will evaluate the reliability of all quiz items throughout the course and make corrections if necessary. Email the instructor questions or concerns about quiz items to be reviewed.

2. Writing Assignment - Diversity and Culture (50 points)

   This is an assignment demonstrating your knowledge and understanding of cultural, historical, social, religious, and linguistic differences. The paper must be 2000-2500 words (approximately 6 pages, not including title, abstract, or reference pages) adhering to APA style. Students must first choose two minority groups from the text or class modules to compare and contrast. In this paper each student must discuss elements of each culture, compare and contrast the differences and similarities between the two cultures, and identify how these individuals may interact with the dominant group (White).

   The following points need to be addressed:
   1) Discuss elements of each culture including but not limited to: influential historical events, past and current cultural, social relations, religious traditions, and linguistic aspects of both cultural groups selected.
2) Compare and contrast the two cultural groups by analyzing commonalities and differences between the groups in regard to cultural traditions, social relations, religious traditions, and linguistic differences. Reflect on the implications of the cultural aspects by indicating how they may influence the way individuals from two selected minority groups may interact in your chosen professional setting.

3) Describe the difficulties that the dominant group (Caucasian) may have in interacting with each group identified including prejudices, biases and existing stereotypes (both negative and positive).

4) A minimum of five outside empirical resources are required for this paper (journal articles, textbooks, etc). These should be appropriately cited using in-text and in a reference page adhering to APA style.

5) An abstract must be provided after the title page. The abstract is descriptive in nature focusing on concise, but highly polished review of your paper. It would include statements about the following: importance or your work, the scope of your work or what you are trying to solve, how you approached the problem or review of it, and then any conclusion discovered from your work.

Cultural Immersion Experience 50 points: Each student will participate in one immersion experience in a culture different from his or her own. Students will prepare 1 page proposal of the experience to be submitted to the instructor for approval of attendance by the date outlined in the tentative schedule via e-mail. Proposal should include: 1. Title of event. 2. Date, time, and duration of event. 3. Location of event. 4. How this event represents a culture that is diverse from student. 5. How this event will enhance your cultural competencies at a master’s level. The student will then write a 3-5 page paper addressing the following prompts:

1. Description of the experience and your thoughts and feelings.

2. Comments on how your experience was enhanced by concepts covered in class materials. Adding in 1-2 research articles.

3. Reflect on how this experience has or has not impacted your personal cultural competencies.

APA style and abstract writing assistance can be found in D2L

Grading for this paper is based on the following: (Detailed rubric available in D2L)

- Completion of assignment tasks- Thoroughness (10 points)
- Depth of responses- Thoughtfulness (20 points)
- Professional Level Quality (20 points)

Submission of this assignment will be due by the date indicated below or in D2L and must be submitted via the D2L “dropbox” feature. “Turnitin” is a plagiarism detection program that the instructor will likely use.

This writing assignment will meet the following student learning outcomes:

1. Students will complete formal writing assignments that entail research drawing from sources that are documented using a recognized style such as APA, Chicago, MLA, a journal-specific style, etc.,
2. Students will be able to critique the validity and effectiveness of arguments presented by others in the field,
3. Students will use a planning/drafting/revising process that incorporates self-assessment and/or peer review and includes instructor feedback, and
4. Students will write using standard American English, including correct punctuation, grammar, and sentence structure.

3. Posted Discussions Topics and Video Review (14 Postings: 10 Pts each for 140 Pts total):
Students will post their thoughts to the forums in D2L “Discussion” page. Discussion forums will become available every Sunday at 12:01 AM CST. Each of the discussion forums will have guiding questions for the student to answer. Some discussion topics will include video clips that are related to the weekly module. All students must post their thoughts to all questions that are assigned. Students will first make a primary response to the guiding question(s) and then make two additional responses to other student’s thoughts. Students will have a total of three posts per discussion board each week. You are encouraged to respond more than three times. All posts are due on Friday at 11:59 PM CST, unless otherwise noted, in which the discussion board will close and no longer accept posts. Scores on Discussions will be provided within a week after posting.

 When posting in the discussions, each student needs to abide by the “Netiquette” section in the CDE Online Student Orientation, which can be found in the “Getting Started” section on the course homepage. Students must also include proper spelling and grammar. Additionally, each student will need to post a substantive response to the question or questions posed by the instructor and then give substantive replies to other classmates. A substantive response is more than simply saying, “I agree,” or “I disagree;” rather, it will provide arguments to support the student's response. It will include information above and beyond what is provided. The students will expand on their thoughts by using examples and include evidence of further research, bring in personal experiences and/or discussing further implications on a broader scope. In summary, a substantive response facilitates in broadening the discussion beyond the confinements of the specific discussion board questions. Finally, participation in group discussions is required, failure to participate may result in an instructor initiated drop or failure in the course.

VI. Grading Scale
Grades are determined based upon the following scale:

Grading Percentages
100 - 90 = A 320–288 points
89 - 80 = B 287–256 points
79 - 70 = C 255–224 points
69 - 60 = D 223–192 points
59 and below = F 191 and below

Understand that it will take the instructor approximately four-to-seven days to complete grading of assignments and provide written feedback turned into the “dropbox” feature in D2L. A grading rubric is provided in D2L for all assignments.

All grading will be available through the D2L link “Grades”

VI. Course Schedule and Policy:

A. Reading Assignments

In a quick synopsis of what to expect from participating in this class, I have established the following basic outcomes and reading assignments for each student:

1. To point out and/or identify commonalities and differences that separate people in the socialization process.
2. To demonstrate that there is as much diversity within groups as there is between groups.
3. To allow you to see that oppression and prejudices are not inborn ways of thinking, but rather learned behavior.
B. Class Policies

Attendance
Since this is an online course there are no class attendance requirements. However, the instructor does monitor student activity online, subsequently, the instructor reserves the right to reduce the final grade if there is lack of activity.

Informed Participation
Participants will be prepared to communicate with the instructor if there are questions about the material. Participation assumes that the learner has read the material.

Course Requirements
Participants will satisfactorily complete all course requirements. My policy is that assignments will be turned in by the date listed in D2L. The following guidelines also apply:

1.) Late Assignments. Late work will not be accepted.

2.) Make-up work. Under special circumstances and with prior approval from the instructor, make-up tests and work is possible. When considering such requests, the instructor may require appropriate documentation, e.g., a physician’s note. All make-up tests and work will be completed within one week of approval. Make-up work, when approved, may be subject to a grade reduction.

3.) Writing Assignments. Written assignments will follow the general guidelines for written English and will comply with APA style when appropriate (other professional styles can be used if appropriate for student’s degree program). If problems with writing or communication style interfere with effective communication of your ideas, you will rewrite or redo the paper or presentation to receive credit for the assignment. Assignments must comply with general guidelines for written English and will follow APA guidelines when appropriate. If problems with grammar or style interfere with effective communication of your ideas, you rewrite the paper to receive credit for the assignment. If you hold yourself to professional standards, you will receive credit for assignments without the necessity for rewrites. You may find the following writing resources useful:

- Book: The Elements of Style, by Strunk and White. (Available in USD bookstore)
- The Writing Center: Tutoring and coursework available through the English Department located in Dakota Hall and/or ID Weeks library.

Academic Integrity
The University of South Dakota considers plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty inimical to the objectives of higher education. The University supports the imposition of penalties on students who have been adjudicated to have engaged in academic dishonesty, as defined in the “Conduct” section of the University of South Dakota Student Handbook, and South Dakota Board of Regents policy 2-33 www.sdbor.edu/policy/Documents/2-33.pdf.

No credit can be given for a dishonest assignment. A student found to have engaged in any form of academic dishonesty may, at the discretion of the instructor, be:

a. Given a zero for that assignment.
b. Allowed to rewrite and resubmit the assignment for credit.
c. Assigned a reduced grade for the course.
d. Dropped from the course.
e. Failed in the course.

Faculty and Student Program Responsibilities
The University of South Dakota’s Counselor Education Program is charged with the task of preparing professional counselors and service professionals in a variety of settings and to assume positions of leadership in the field. To meet these responsibilities, faculty must evaluate students based on their academic, professional, and personal qualities. The University of South Dakota’s Counselor Education Program seeks to promote a learning community where students can develop professionally. We do this by providing an environment in which students’ rights and responsibilities are respected and by respecting the dignity and worth of each student.

A student’s progress in the program may, however, be interrupted for failing to comply with academic standards or if a student’s interpersonal or emotional status interferes with education/training-related requirements for self or others. For example, to ensure proper clinical training and client care, a counselor-in-training must abide by relevant ethical codes and demonstrate professional knowledge, technical and personal skills, professional attitudes, and professional character. These factors are evaluated based on one’s academic performance and one’s ability to convey warmth, genuineness, respect, and empathy in interactions with clients, classmates, staff, and faculty. Students should demonstrate the ability to accept and integrate feedback, be aware of their impact on others, accept personal responsibility, and be able to express feelings appropriately.

Special Needs and Student with Disabilities

Any student who feels s/he may need academic accommodations or access accommodations based on the impact of a documented disability should contact and register with Disability Services during the first week of class or as soon as possible after the diagnosis of a disability. Disability Services is the official office to assist students through the process of disability verification and coordination of appropriate and reasonable accommodations. Students currently registered with Disability Services must obtain a new accommodation memo each semester.

Please note: if your home institution is not the University of South Dakota but one of the other South Dakota Board of Regents institutions (e.g., SDSU, SDSMT, BHSU, NSU, DSU), you should work with the disability services coordinator at your home institution.

Freedom of Learning

Under Board of Regents and University policy student academic performance may be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards. Students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study for which they are enrolled. Students who believe that an academic evaluation reflects prejudiced or capricious consideration of student opinions or conduct unrelated to academic standards should contact the dean of the college or school that offers the class to initiate a review of the evaluation.

Diversity

The University of South Dakota strives to foster a globally inclusive learning environment where opportunities are provided for diversity to be recognized and respected. To learn more about USD’s diversity and inclusiveness initiatives, please visit the website for the Office of Diversity.
